

THE INTERNATIONAL TEST COMMISSION

Application for Affiliate Membership

Affiliate membership in the International Test Commission (ITC) is open to organizations with interests in educational and psychological testing. These organizations may include test publishers, governmental agencies, consulting firms, laboratories, test consulting companies, or universities (or departments) involved in psychometric and testing related practice or research.

Affiliate Members can contribute to ITC projects and help shape the direction of the ITC, and Affiliate Members may vote in the election of officers and council members, on constitutional matters, and on other matters that may arise at the General Meeting held every two years during the ITC conference.

Through their nominated representative, Affiliate members receive

- The ITC Newsletter TESTING INTERNATIONAL (twice a year),
- The ITC journal, International Journal of Testing (issued in four parts each year).
- The ITC President's Progress Reports (twice a year),

In addition, Affiliate Members are encouraged to participate fully in ITC's publications, symposia, and other projects.

IMPORTANT. PLEASE NOTE:

One person must be nominated by the Affiliated organization to be the ITC Representative for the Affiliate member. This person should be in a position to ensure the payment of fees, to be in receipt of emails and attachments from the ITC which they may then wish to distribute more widely within their organization.

They should also be the person who would vote on behalf of the Affiliate organization when the ITC has meetings of members or in the election of Council members and Officers. The Representative can pass this right onto another member of the member organization, or appoint a temporary proxy, by making this known to the ITC Secretary-General.

The ITC Representative for the Affiliate organization will have free access to the ITC Learning Centre website www.itc-learning.net with the same rights as an Individual member, where they can engage in a range of learning projects for CPD or for qualification purposes.
